Earhart Speeding Toward Tiny Pacific Isle

HOWLAND GOAL OF AMELIA AND HER NAVIGATOR

2,550 Mile Journey Termed Most Dangerous on Long World Flight

TAKEOFF NEARLY TRAGIC

Big Airplane Misses End of Runway By 50 Feet

HOWLAND ISLAND, Oceania, July 2.—(UP)—Amelia Earhart raced toward this tiny island in the middle of the Pacific ocean today on the most hazardous lap of her round-the-world flight.

Coast guard and naval authorities stood by here to lend whatever assistance possible to Miss Earhart and her navigator, Capt. Fred Noonan, a veteran of trans-Pacific air travel, in bringing the big Lockheed "flying laboratory" safely over the 2,550-mile journey from Lae, New Guinea.

Miss Earhart took off from Lae, which is on the other side of the international date line, at 10 a. m. Friday, New Guinea time (7 p. m. Thursday EST). After a spectacular take-off, missing the end of the runway by only 50 yards, she aimed the silver monoplane eastward over a route never before traveled by plane.

Queer Time Schedule
 In addition to crossing the equator just west of here, Miss Earhart will cross the international date line, thereby arriving here on the same day of her departure, Friday. But before crossing the date line she will be flying in a zone whose time is Saturday.

The entire flight must be navigated by dead reckoning and whatever radio help Miss Earhart can get from the U. S. naval supply ship, Ontario, stationed about midway along the route. Anchored off this cigar-shaped speck of an island was the coast guard cutter, Itasca, from Honolulu, ready to radio final bearings. There are no ship lanes on the route, and Miss Earhart's sole contact with the world will be through the Ontario and Itasca.

ENGINEER URGES OFFICE OF W. P. A. FOR CIRCLEVILLE

Pickaway county's W.P.A. office may become an area headquarters for engineers conducting operations in four counties.

E. L. Noethlich, of Columbus, who with Arthur Peake, Chilli-cothe, has been named an area engineer, for Pickaway, Fayette, Ross and Fairfield counties, announced Friday, that he favored the establishment of the area office here.

Appointment of the area engineers was made by Lee Patin, Columbus, supervisor of operations. The appointments became effective July 1. Peake has been in charge of the local office since the resignation of Vattier Court-right, who accepted an engineering position with the Mead Corporation.

Noethlich visited the Circleville office Friday. He said he favored establishment of the area office here as it was centrally located among the counties in the area.

Noethlich said he had no definite information at the present time about the future of W.P.A. in the county, but that he believed a general project supervisor would be appointed.

The Logan Elm park improvement project was reopened Friday. Five men were assigned to the job.

IRONTON JURORS READY TO BEGIN STUDY OF FRAUD

IRONTON, July 2.—(UP)—The case of four Lawrence county persons on trial here on ballot-tampering charges was expected to be given to the jury of nine men and three women today. The trial began June 21.

Closing arguments were in progress when the trial opened today. L. R. Andrews of the defense counsel continued the arguments started yesterday by his associate, A. J. Layne.

Layne charged that the testimony of the state's star witness, Dan C. Rapp, former county auditor, was "a lie from start to finish." He asserted Secretary of State William J. Kennedy, who was in the courtroom, was "fooled by Dan Rapp, who is smarter than that bunch from Columbus."

Special Prosecutor Thomas Burke charged in his argument that the testimony had showed there was "crookedness and corruption in the office of County Auditor Pearl Pratt."

The defendants are Pratt; Miss Elizabeth Griffith, former county relief director; Wade Webb, court bailiff, and William Dickens, lumber dealer and Republican candidate for county commissioner last fall. The state charged they conspired to alter ballots so that Dickens would win in a recount of votes cast in the election.

RUSSIANS WILLING TO MOVE TROOPS FROM AMUR AREA

MOSCOW, July 2.—(UP)—Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov awaited today a Japanese reply to his proposal that both Russia and Japan withdraw their troops from disputed territory along the Amur river.

Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu was expected at the foreign commissariat during the day with the reply, which may show the course to be taken by the governments in the serious dispute caused by a clash of Russian and Japanese-Manchukuan forces on the winding river which forms the frontier.

American Ambassador Joseph E. Davies watched the situation closely after his statement of last night expressing the personal hope that the incident would be localized and not permitted to develop into a serious international situation. Litvinov made his proposal for withdrawal of forces at a two-hour conference with Shigemitsu yesterday. Litvinov said that Russia was ready to recall its men at once if Japan and Manchukuo would recall theirs, and he suggested that this might be a good time to start demarkation of the boundary so that danger of further incidents would be minimized.

NEW YORKER, 33, FACES GRILLING IN GIRL DEATHS

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(UP)—A 33-year-old son of a wealthy New York family, Henry S. Satterlee, Jr., was in Centinella hospital today after being questioned in connection with the Inglewood girl murders.

Although witnesses said Satterlee was too tall to have been the man last seen with the girls before they disappeared Saturday, authorities said they wanted to check on his movements of that day.

Satterlee, police said, was reported to have come to an Inglewood hotel Sunday afternoon in an hysterical condition from liquor and with his clothes blood-spattered.

The New Yorker attributed the blood to minor injuries in an automobile accident, police said. He said he was playing polo with friends in Beverly Hills Saturday at the time the girls were lured to the hills, ravished and strangled.

Police said they checked this story and learned he played polo on Friday, not Saturday.

NAMPA, Idaho, July 2.—(UP)—This town's Fourth of July celebration was ended abruptly today after an explosion of fireworks that killed five and injured 20 persons.

At least 12 of the injured were in critical condition. Mayor R. Lewis Ord ordered that no more fireworks be sold or exploded in the city limits.

The explosion and fire destroyed a two-story building in the center of town. Two children and three women were killed.

The devices were heaped on a display counter and the young son of E. L. Drake, drug store proprietor, was showing them to a friend. Somebody tossed a lighted firecracker onto the counter.

Rockets Fill Air
 There were several sharp reports and then a thundering roar. Roman candles and sky rockets flashed across the room, shot out plate glass doors and windows, ignited the holiday display of flimsy crepe paper that hung from the ceiling. Torpedoes, giant firecrackers and bombs were in the heap. Some of the rockets gyrated crazily along the sidewalks and landed a block away. (Continued on Page Eight)

WALLACE WARNS WHEAT SURPLUS MAY CUT PRICE

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace today told wheat farmers—here from 31 states to plan a 1938 AAA program—that there is "great danger" of a price-depressing surplus of wheat next year.

Wallace advised the group, summoned here hurriedly, that farmers should "think very seriously" about the danger of two or more successive bumper wheat crops.

He said that if weather and price conditions continue favorable this fall, "We'll wish next year we had the ever-normal granary." He did not, however, encourage hopes that congress will pass the ever-normal granary bill this session.

CHICAGO, July 2.—(UP)—Damage to winter wheat in the United States during June has cut crop estimates 7,000,000 bushels, private forecasters said today. ### GARFIELD SHOT 56 YEARS AGO IN BALTIMORE

Assassination of President James A. Garfield 56 years ago today—July 2, 1881—brought memories to Will S. Gearhart, Watt street. Mr. Gearhart was showing his friends a souvenir handkerchief carrying pictures of Garfield and his running mate, Chester A. Arthur, that he won from Jacob Smith on the election the previous November.

He bet on Garfield to defeat Hancock, and he was right.

President Garfield was shot in the Baltimore railroad depot by an angry attorney, named Guitteau. He died Sept. 9, 1881. Guitteau had been refused a foreign appointment by the president.

DRIVE ON BLACK CURRANT BEGINS IN COUNTY AREA

Twelve W. P. A. workers opened a drive in Pickaway county Friday for the eradication of the European, black currant, blight for the white pine blight rust.

The drive is under the direction of George Slesman, of the Wooster experiment station, and H. E. Ryan, Columbus. Local W. P. A. men assigned to the project, which is state-wide, were given instructions Friday in the basement of the city building.

All city and county property will be inspected for black currant bushes. The inspection is expected to last six or eight weeks.

"The European black currant usually occurs only in cultivation," a federal bulletin states. "It becomes infected at distances up to 100 or more miles from diseased pines. The ease with which this currant becomes infected makes it an important agent in the long distance spread and local establishment of blight rust in disease-free regions."

Mr. Ryan said the black currant was brought into this country about 50 years ago. The blight rust spreads by means of wind-borne spores which are produced during the spring, summer and fall.

HORSES KILLED; SOLDIER - OWNER FOUND SUICIDE

STRIKERS WATCH AS CARS CARRY 375 INTO PLANT

Threat of C. I. O. to 'Lick' National Guard Fails to Materialize

YOUNGSTOWN MAN GONE

Canton Remains Tense After House is Bombed

MASSILLON, July 2.—(UP)—A strike-bound Republic Steel corporation plant was reopened today by 375 men who entered the mill under protection of powerful lines of Ohio National Guardsmen.

There was no resistance offered by Committee for Industrial Organization unionists, who had massed forces to "lick the militia" if necessary to balk the reopening. No attempt was made immediately to open a second Republic plant in another part of the city.

The men entered the plant, 125 cars as 500 strikers and strike sympathizers stood quietly outside of the militia lines. Only one mild "boo" was uttered by unionists as non-strikers passed. Movement of the convoy required only 15 minutes. Guardsmen had blocked off a three-quarter-mile area and stood by with fixed bayonets.

Pickets had begun patrol duty at 5:30 a. m., an hour and a half before the expected reopening.

Furnaces Fired
 The non-strikers returning to the Massillon plant began firing furnaces and preparing for resumption of operations over the week-end. About 4,200 men are employed in the two plants in normal times.

The strike front continued tense in Canton, where crowds shouted frequent insults at militiamen escorting non-strikers to their homes and guarding the plant gates. Republic mills were reported speeding up operations there although picket lines continued active. Recurrent acts of vandalism and threats against non-strikers kept the troops busy.

At Warren, O., police arrested Carl Byers, one of six men charged in warrants with participating in a terrorist bombing plot intended to cripple Republic's Trumbull plants. Gus Hall, C. I. O. leader at Warren, previously had surrendered and was held in jail on charges of being the "brains of the plot." He said the charges were a "frame-up."

Byers was found hiding under a bed in a Warren house, police said. They said they arrested him after Edward Livingston had attempted to represent himself as Byers at the Public Service company and collect a deposit Byers had made. A woman at the house where he was found was held on open charges, as was Livingston.

Worker Missing
 Meanwhile police listed K. J. Babbitt, of Youngstown, who was employed in the Republic plant at Warren, as missing and began a search for him.

E. G. Fournier, Babbitt's father-in-law, said Babbitt had worked in the mill during the strike and was last seen driving away from the plant yesterday morning.

Fournier said Babbitt is a man of regular habits, took no part in the strike controversy, and his disappearance is puzzled by his disappearance.

3 of violence continued to mark the Canton strike and picket lines continued on duty. Canton is nine miles from Massillon.

One Canton, worker, who was escorted to a spot near his home by troopers, was later pursued by an automobile of the strikers to (Continued on Page Eight)

ASHVILLE WHEAT PART OPENS AT $1.13 A BUSHEL

Warner Hedges Delivers
First Shipment Into

SCOUTS TO ADD YOUTHS

Many Harvesting Combines
Go Into Action

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

The first new wheat for this threshing season was delivered Thursday afternoon to the Scioto Grain Company elevator in Ashville. Dick Rife, the manager, made a very careful test of it and it tested 59 pounds to the bushel, which is, according to many reports, extra good for this year. It was "combined" wheat and owned and delivered by Warner Hedges, and was grown on what is known as the Morrison farm just a short distance south of town.

Mr. Hedges told us he would likely have near 1,000 bushels of it. We had the pleasure of seeing this first load of new wheat of the year tested and dumped into the receiving pit. The "berry" (wheat grain) was plump and dry. The price, yesterday, was $1.13 with the "bush" (price boosters) in charge of the market.

Some News Notes
Ada Rudy has returned from Magnette Springs after spending a week there. . . . Our Boy Scout troop has a dozen or more members and plans, according to reports, are being made to boost this membership. . . . The dozen or more wheat harvesting combines are starting to get busy in the surrounding farm territory and the grain elevators here have a busy season just ahead. Yes, threshing, too, will begin next week. . . . Our girls' coach and "Home Ec" instructor, Miss Ada Wilson, drove up from her home in West Virginia, yesterday for a short visit. . . . Met our long time friend, Harry Moore, yesterday and he said he was plenty busy every day writing automobile insurance for Vic Donahue's company. Together, we gave Vic the "once over" and decided he was it because of his honesty, and too, because he refused to be dictated to by a set of politicians — no, not Democrats, that wouldn't do. . . . Jimmy Rawlin and his dancing class of some dozen or more are to be here next Monday for a "floor show" whatever that is. The boys who are "on the job" getting everything ready for the Fourth doings, say it is to be "the very best one yet."

Ashville
Dwelling Catches Fire
If one were actually trying to burn a house down for pay, the start made yesterday on a country home east of Lockbourne, would have been worth a lot. From the information we are able to obtain the property known as the Shook dwelling, was to be painted and the old paint was being removed from the surface by a blow torch. The weatherboarding got on fire and was making good progress toward a real one. The Ashville fire department responded to a call for help, but before it could reach the scene of the conflagration, the blaze had been brought under control and assistance, luckily, was not needed. Those making the run with our fire fighting apparatus were William Cloud, chief, and his assistants, Hoadley Brintlinger and Charles Fortner.

Met our old friend L. E. Davidson at Circleville yesterday. He is the "big boy" with the hardware firm of Davidson and Company and is the same fine chap he always was "years ago" when he and Rockefeller drove a horse drawn gas truck around over the country selling gasoline and other Standard Oil products to many a good buyer, among whom was our Doctor Gardner who purchased his first gasoline for his "speedster" from this Mr. Davidson. And the doctor's "speedster" we are telling you about, as we recall it, was a "Stutz" and when the weather was favorable and everything was clicking just right the doctor was

Funeral Services Held For Slayer's Victims

INGLEWOOD, Calif. July 2.—(UP)—A pause in its man-hunt, this Los Angeles suburb today prepared to bury the last of three little girls who were assaulted and strangled by a fiend.

A double funeral was arranged for the Everett sisters, Melba, 9, and Madeline, 7.

Jeanette Stephens, 8, was buried yesterday. Dr. Warren Grafton, of the First Christian church, who preached the funeral, included a word of advice to the frenzied community.

"May this rally us not as a mob of vengeance, but into an army of crusaders," he pleaded.

"Perhaps not one of us is guiltless of the unspeakable crime that has ravaged two homes," he said. "Perhaps we have failed to create the moral atmosphere that makes such things as this impossible."

A crowd of 1,000 persons stood across the street, at a respectful distance from the mortuary where the service was held. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stephens, had requested privacy.

The community was absorbed by the atrocity. There were 1,000 persons in the searching party when the girls' bodies were found in the Baldwin hills, where they were lured from a playground. Daylong, the townspeople have poured contributions into boxes that stood on store counters and passed from house to house, to buy flowers for the slain girls and help their parents defray the funeral expenses. And every night, angry mobs have surrounded the jail threatening violence against the scores of men who have been held for questioning.

More than 100 men have been questioned, a few were still confined in southern California jails today, but police admitted they had no likely suspect. One man, Roy Harmon, 57, who had been held and released, hanged himself last night.

He left a rambling note to his wife, saying that police had threatened to send him to prison as a degenerate unless he resigned from the City Park department. There was nothing to implicate him in the slayings.

Luther Dow, an ex-convict, who had been questioned as a suspect, was detained today after he allegedly confessed to sending amorous letters to the actress, Nancy Carroll.

40 COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS SEEK PLACES IN BAND

Forty 4-H club members attended the first band rehearsal held Thursday night in Memorial hall. The band will contain about 55 members. Some were absent due to vacations. Another rehearsal will be held next Thursday evening.

The band will play at Farm Bureau functions, homecomings and other activities in communities throughout the county and participate in the Pumpkin Show parades.

So well does he play his part that he succeeds in convincing his two best pals that he has gone "bad."

JUDGES TO HEAR C. I. O. DEMANDS TUESDAY AT 10

Underwood Delays Hearing
On Effort to Oust
Guardsmen

NEVIN TO BE ON BENCH
Workmen to Be Protected at Least Five Days

COLUMBUS, July 2 — (UP) — Workers returning to Ohio's struck steel mills today were assured of military protection for at least five more days after Federal Judge Meil G. Underwood deferred until next Tuesday hearing on an injunction suit to restrain Gov. Martin L. Davey from using Ohio National Guardsmen to reopen the plants.

State's attorneys scored a victory late yesterday during preliminary discussion of the suit, brought by the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate, when Judge Underwood announced he would call in two other federal judges to determine whether a three-judge court or he alone should hear arguments in the plea for a permanent injunction.

State's attorneys had insisted the case was "clearly" one for a three-judge court.

Judge Underwood announced, however, that he alone will hear testimony beginning next Tuesday at 10 a. m. on the C. I. O.'s request for a temporary injunction.

Gov. Martin L. Davey did not appear at the hearing. He told the United Press, however, that he would not attempt to evade a subpoena if served.

Judge Underwood said he would call in one judge of the federal circuit court of appeals and Judge Robert R. Nevin, Cincinnati, of the Ohio southern district.

Questions and Answers

Can you give me a recipe for preserved Strawberry and Pineapple?

Strawberries and fresh Pineapple preserved together make a delightful combination. We use this proportion:

- 2 qts. strawberries
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 C. fresh pineapple
- 1/2 C. unstrained lemon juice

Wash, drain and hull berries. Add sugar with grated pineapple, and let stand 6 hours, shaking occasionally. Place over low flame and let boil 8 minutes after boiling point is reached. Add lemon juice and boil hard for 2 minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars or glasses. When cold, seal with paraffin and cover with lids.

Is it possible to make a "chiffon" dessert using grapejuice?

A fluffy grape-flavored dessert with a chiffon texture is made like this:

Grape Juice Chiffon

- 1 Tbsp. Knox gelatin
- 1/4 C. cold water
- 2 Tbsp. lemon juice
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup grape juice
- 1/2 C. whipping cream

Beat egg yolks slightly and add lemon juice, sugar and salt. Cook in double boiler stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from fire and add the gelatin that has been soaked in the 1/4 C. of cold water. Stir until dissolved. Add the grape juice and cool. When the mixture starts to stiffen, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased molds or pile in parfait glasses. Chill again and serve, topped with whipped cream and maraschino cherries. Serves 6.

Please suggest a tempting way to serve liver.

Calves Liver Rolls

- 1 1/2 lb. thinly sliced calves liver
- 4 C. soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 C. drained, crushed pineapple
- 1 1/2 Tbsp. minced green pepper
- 1 small peeled onion, minced
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. each of pepper, thyme, paprika and sage
- 1/2 C. pineapple juice
- 4 Tbsp. melted butter
- 2 C. boiling water

Combine the bread crumbs, crushed pineapple, green pepper, onion, all other seasonings and pineapple juice. Mix well and spread on the slices of liver which have been previously sprinkled with salt and pepper. Roll up liver slices and secure each with a toothpick. Sauté liver rolls in the melted fat until golden brown on all sides. Add the boiling water and simmer very gently until tender. (About 30 minutes.) Remove rolls to a hot platter and serve with gravy made from liquor and stuffing that remains in the skillet. Serves 6.

God Hears a People's Cry

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 4, the first in a three months' course on "God in the Making of a Nation", is Exodus 1:1-22; 2:23-25, the Golden Text being Isaiah 65:24, "Before they call, I will answer, and while they are yet speaking, I will hear." Since this quarter's studies are chiefly in the Book of Exodus we quote here the chapter covering this book in the author's Bible Studies, "The Gist of the Bible Book by Book", published by Dr. Alvin E. Bell, Toledo, O.)

THE MESSAGE of Exodus is evident in its name. It relates the "Going Out" of a nation of slaves from the land of Egypt, where they and their ancestors had been in bondage for more than four centuries. As Genesis ended with the picture of Joseph's coffin in Egypt, Exodus relates the national history incident to carrying that coffin back to the land of Joseph's fathers. Exodus differs from Genesis in that its message concerns a nation rather than outstanding individuals.

The Message of Exodus

Its message may be summed up in three great words from our own national history, viz., "Slavery, Emancipation, Reconstruction"; or, speaking in terms of geography, the three words are "Egypt, Red Sea, Sinai", and these suggest

STATE ATTORNEY RULES ON ROADS

Mackey Ford Not Governed
By Cromley Act

The Cromley act does not govern the rights-of-way on the Mackey Ford road, Herbert J. Duffy, attorney general, informed George E.

should not be broken. Who would come down from heaven to be the world's "Bread of Life" as the manna was the heaven-sent sustenance of Israel during its 40 years of wandering in the wilderness. Christ is the true Law Giver and Mediator of Whom Moses was but a type. The emancipation recorded in Exodus is but a parable of His emancipation of us all by the blood of his crops.

CONSTIPATION IS A MISERABLE THING!

It takes the pep right out of you — makes you feel tired and irritable — ready to worry over the slightest thing.

Yet it can be corrected in most cases so easily. Common constipation is usually caused by lack of "bulk" in the foods you eat.

Millions of people have learned that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN ends constipation by putting "bulk" back in the diet. Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass and gently sponging out the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines and iron for the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes, are sufficient. Three times daily in severe cases.

Sold at all grocers — and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Gerhardt, prosecutor, in an opinion received Friday.

An opinion on the rights of way on this road was asked some time ago by the prosecutor so it could be transferred to the state highway system by the county.

Files in the auditor's office show the road was laid out in 1892, and the greater portion of the highway, extending from the canal lands to the Scioto river, was listed as 60 feet wide.

After the road was laid out the Cromley act establishing the width of turnpikes in the county was passed in 1893. This act established road widths from 40 to 45 feet. The question facing the county was whether or not it owned a 60-foot right-of-way, or if it was from 40 to 45 feet.

Mr. Gerhardt said he had conferred with the attorney general's office about the question and it was the opinion the Cromley act was passed for the purpose of establishing highways from the old toll roads. It was not believed the act had any bearing on the road in question.

TO BOY SCOUTS

YOUTHS: To all three troops of scouts that performed at the Court of Honor this week: Congratulations. The honor court was a splendid one. Nearly 100 boys were advanced from tenderfoot and second class ranks into the first class. Others were given even higher awards. The scout movement is doing more for the American boy than is any other youth program, so I urge all boys of 12 to 16 years to take advantage of the opportunities afforded by the work. Circleville's troops 158 and 107 are moving forward, and few will deny that Kingston's troop is one of the best. Special congratulations go to the American Legion troop for winning the district flag, but the percentage of gain among the three troops was so close that all three deserve plaudits.

TO THE ELEMENTS

DAMAGERS: Pickaway county farmers are rapidly harvesting a splendid wheat crop despite rainy weather that has made straw unusually heavy and moisture content above average. I hope you will be friendly as long as any wheat remains standing in the county's borders. You have done much more damage than is necessary to the corn crop by turning the devastating Scioto river loose on all that was planted in the lowlands. You should see how much good you can do instead of causing losses throughout our community. Rain that fell in the early Spring has made garden products, fruits and berries very tasty, so I take this opportunity to thank you.

TO 'JUST FOLK'

FRIENDS: More persons than usual seem to be complaining of Summer ailments. Whether they are eating too much of this or too much of that is something no one seems able to determine. My advice to all who feel ill is to "visit your family doctor" immediately to determine just what is wrong. Your physician is better able to diagnose your case than is any other person.

TO CHILDREN

KIDDIES: Another Fourth of July has arrived and I hope you have your share of fun - - but be careful. Don't take unnecessary chances with fireworks. Shoot your supply when your parents or other older persons are close to give you proper advice. Every year children in this community suffer burns from fireworks. Fortunately no serious accidents have occurred in recent years, and I hope this record continues. If you should suffer a burn while playing with fireworks consult a physician at once. Take no chances. Be sure to keep your firecrackers away from homes where there is sickness. Police have received numerous complaints about this nuisance.

TO CITY OFFICIALS

FOLK: Will Circleville's street be marked this year with parking lines? The lines have practically disappeared in some districts. Autoists have difficulty parking correctly. I believe they help and are well worth the money invested.

TO LOWLAND FARMERS

FRIENDS: The month of June brought heavy losses to many of you. Flood waters swept over your fields destroying ripening wheat and hundreds of acres of corn, some of it two feet high. Many of you are not planning to replant your corn due to the advanced season. Have you written a letter to your senators or representatives about the flood? I understand a few farmers have written to Washington urging approval of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy. Legislators, like many businessmen, have a habit of tossing letters into the waste paper basket. When they receive them by the scores they take notice and pay some attention to the wishes of those demanding relief. The flood this year was one of the worst in many years. Floods are not unusual in this territory, but the last one should certainly educate our legislators that something should be done at once to prevent another.

TO PEACE OFFICERS

GENTLEMEN: I hope you continue your drive on motorists who violate traffic regulations. Residents who reside on main highways through this city are continually complaining about motorists speeding and running red lights. E. Main street has more than its share of speeders. A few arrests stop the practice for a short time, then it resumes. If police made regular cruises around the city during the day, watching for speeders, there would be fewer complaints.

TO COUNTY RESIDENTS

FOLK: Ashville will play host to Pickaway county again this year with a Fourth of July celebration. The village always presents an outstanding event with amusement for residents of every age. It is more than a celebration, it serves as a homecoming with a good time for everyone. Plan to attend the event. Prizes in the parade total $100. Remember the parade and fireworks displays are on the Fifth.

TO CITY COUNCILMEN

GENTLEMEN: What arrangements are you going to work out for the collection of garbage this Summer? So far the question has been sidetracked in your meetings. With warm weather the complaints start arriving. It would be wise to consider the problem as soon as possible to get some solution worked out. I have often wondered how this nuisance in the city of Circleville has escaped the attention of the city board of health. A trip through some of the city's alleys on a warm afternoon will convince anyone that a system of garbage collection is needed.

'THRU MICHIGAN . . . . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up at 5 by the clock and for an hour walked in my sleep as final packing was completed and the wagon cranked for the homeward journey. All pressure possible was brought on Ed Wallace in an effort to force him to shave, but he insisted on bringing the fancy growth back to the home ville, and he did. A slow trip to St. Ignace where the ferry was waiting and we crossed to Mackinaw City and thence to Cheboygan.

What the others did in Cheboygan the scrivener is not at liberty to relate, but the fish I bought to bring home cost a pretty bit. Had promised fish to several close friends and intended making good on the promise if Frank Bell's fishing boats had been in luck, which they had.

Off, then, Southbound between Mullet and Burke Lake and past Houghton, skirting Lansing and stopping briefly in Jackson. Caught only glimpses of the countryside, for did spend most of the day trying to nap in a speeding automobile. Drivers were changed frequently because of drowsiness. Here's the Ohio line and there goes the last of Michigan for at least another year. How much better, the appearance of the Buckeye state!

Missed the road at Toledo and went almost downtown on Highway 25, which route did follow, then, to Findlay and there picked up 31 for the seemingly endless jaunt into Columbus. Hardly a sound in the machine as it roared over the highway, bearing five tired men. There's the lights of Circleville, and how welcome they are! Rain fell hard at the city limits and escorted us to the ice house where Guy very carefully parked the car under the canopy and left the trailer out in the rain. Three of us worked several minutes unpacking before we realized we were out in the downpour and the car was in the dry. A few well chosen suggestions and the auto moved ahead and three boxes of fish were carted in and placed on the ice until division time on the morrow.

How grand that bathroom with its steaming tub and then the bed without a hammock sag and lacking those irritating mattress lumps that are so difficult to dodge in a fishing camp. Lay awake for a full minute in contemplation of complete comfort, grinning to myself over the fact that on the morrow I would not be called at daylight or thereabouts to go out after fish me like a paycar does a tramp.

CHAPTER 36

SANDY hurried the hysterical Paula from the dangerous cliff and seated her safely in the car, before he turned to her gently.

"Paula dear," he began, "I don't want to hurt you. But I really think you've said some things you can't mean. You're tired and upset, and maybe we've been working you too hard lately. Just because I'm continually under your feet is no reason for you to fall in love with me."

The man talked softly, as if to a very little child. Paula was at first incredulous, then bitterly angry, for she had interpreted his remark by the sea to be a joyful admission of his love.

"I'm in love with Marcia," he explained further. "Guess I always will be. We argue back and forth, and get in some funny misunderstandings, but underneath it all—well, underneath it there is always love!"

"But Hartley, and now this publisher, Garrett Warren? How do you know they don't mean anything?" she tried to inject some doubt into his mind.

"I'm through with being jealous, and with this I'm through with something else," he said positively, for in the light of Paula's unsolicited declaration, he had discovered a startling new truth. When he saw how easily this girl would cast aside her work and her ideals just to get a man, he unconsciously approved Marcia's gallant bravery in standing up for what she thought was right.

Suddenly he realized that he must love Marcia for the very things he was trying to change in her: her steadfast idealism of his cherished profession, her comradeship and understanding of all he did, and her dear foolish ambitions. If she were to lose all this, she would not be the same mad Marcia with whom he fell in love!

With this decision sweeping all else before it, he determined to rush to Marcia and persuade her to marry him on any terms. All jealousy of Hartley was swept into the discard, as common sense told him she could never care for him nor be involved in any way with such an unscrupulous chap.

His mind made up, he turned sympathetically to Paula. The girl was now crying brokenly, furious with Sandy for his coldness, and embarrassed that she had made such a fool of herself. Nothing Sandy could say seemed to ease the situation, and he lapsed into silence. It would gain him nothing to admit his blame in the whole matter, for if Paula ever guessed he had been deliberately taking her places to arouse Marcia's jealousy, there was no telling what her vengeance might lead her to do. She was a child of intense emotions, as her outbreak that evening had proved.

When they finally reached the girls' club where she had made her headquarters, Sandy turned again to Paula. He put his hand on her shoulder and told her, "I wouldn't have had this happen for the world, Paula. You've been such a soldier at the office, and I am so genuinely proud of your work. You are not going to let this interfere with that are you?"

Paula's eyes were still filled with tears, her mouth trembling. With mixed emotions she said, not looking at him, "I couldn't work in the same office with you after all this. I'd be ashamed to be so confident that her generous love would outweigh the uncertain Marcia's that she was still stunned by the blow of his denial. Her first dramatic inclination was to flee from his office and from the city, but then common sense showed this plan to be foolhardy. No one but Sandy knew of her shame, and surely he would not tell. Suddenly the thought of leaving the field clear for Marcia became unbearable, and she decided to brave anything.

"Maybe I could go away, just for a while?" she suggested tentatively.

"We've waited this long," he thought, and didn't recognize any pressing need for haste. He couldn't know that at that very moment Marcia was sitting in the big window of her apartment, smoking a cigaret that burned fragrantly as the smoke spiraled out into the dark room. She was

Doctor Lists the Causes of July 4th Accidents

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IT IS A regular thing for health writers to view with alarm the Fourth of July, and it is a good thing they do. The number of accidents and deaths from fireworks accidents has gone down steadily due to sensible municipal control and the organization of the medical profession to take care of injuries.

"Always drive fast out of alleys. You might hit something. You can't tell."

"Always drive close to pedestrians in wet weather. Dry cleaners will erect a monument to your memory."

"Always try to pass cars on a hill when it is possible. Never look around when you back up. There is never anything behind your automobile."

"A few shots of booze will enable your car to do real stunts. For permanent results quaff long and deeply of the flowing bowl before taking the wheel."

"Drive as fast as you can on wet pavements. There is always something to stop you if you lose control—often a heavy truck or a plate glass window."

"New drivers should be shown how to drive fast in heavy traffic. It gives them the experience every motorist should have."

"Always speed! It looks as though you were a man of pep even though an amateur driver."

"Never stop or listen at railroad crossings. It consumes valuable time, and besides, nobody believes in signs."

"Demand half the road—the middle half. Insist on your rights. Always lock your brakes when skidding. It makes the job more artistic."

"Always race with locomotives to crossings. It breaks the monotony of their jobs. It is always a good test of your car."

"Always pass the car ahead on curves or turns. Don't use the horn because it might unnerv the other fellow and cause him to turn out too far."

FACTS AND FANCIES

Thorough Sanding Necessary
Whether a seal, shellac, varnish, or paint finish is given a floor, a good sanding job before it is applied is imperative. If one plans to do the work oneself instead of engaging an expert floor finisher, and hasn't a sanding machine, it would be wise to rent one. Polishing machines are a big help, and make the work easier.

Fruit Bread

Three-fourths cup sugar, two eggs, beaten; one and two-thirds cups milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-half cup each cherries, dates, currants, chopped fine; three-fourths cup chopped nuts. Combine in order given. Children like this bread in their lunches.

Pork and Nut Sandwich

One and one-half pounds lean pork, one-half cup nuts, chopped; one-half cup celery, chopped; one-half cup sweet pickle, chopped; salad dressing to moisten. Let pork simmer in hot water until tender. Grind it or chop it very fine. When cool, add nuts, celery, and pickles. Add enough salad dressing to slightly moisten. Spread on slices of buttered bread.

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM—One quart thin cream, three-fourths cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one quart strawberries, one cup sugar. Scald the cream with the first amount of sugar and the salt. Set to cool and then to chill. Wash, drain, hull and crush berries with remaining sugar. Set in the refrigerator to chill thoroughly. Prepare freezer and ice. Test the freezer crank to see that it turns easily. When cream is well chilled, put it into the can, pack in ice and salt, cover freezer and let stand five minutes, then start turning. When cream begins to stiffen remove plug from bottom and let part of brine drain off. Remove top of freezer and with a spatula, stir in strawberries. Cover again, add more ice and salt if needed and continue freezing. Remove cover, take out dasher carefully, scraping off surplus cream with a spatula. Put a cork in the top, cover cream, add more ice and salt, cover and set aside to ripen until needed.

MAX MACON ALLOWS LONE HIT AS RED BIRDS CAPTURE ST. PAUL SERIES

RED BIRDS WIN 2 TO 1 IN LAST OF FOUR GAMES

Washington's Double Driving Warner Across Plate Takes Away Perfect Work

RIZZO STRUCK IN BACK

Outfielder To Be Ready For Duty on Saturday

COLUMBUS, July 2.—Max Macon took up when Johnny Chambers left off Wednesday night by holding the St. Paul Apostles safe throughout Thursday night's game, giving up only one hit. The Birds won the fray 2 to 1 thus sweeping the four-game series. Chambers shut them out the night before.

The only safety off the eccentric left-hander was a double by Vernon Washington, Saint outfielder, the blow following a walk to Jackie Warner and causing the only run for the losers.

Ray Phelps, who did the hill chores for the Apostles, did some neat hurling on his own account,

MANY SPEEDERS SEEKING HONORS VACATED BY ACE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 2.—(UP)—The nation's premier distance runners will battle today for the 10,000 meters title vacated by Don Lash of Indiana in the opening event of the National A. A. U. track and field championships.

Lash, forced out of the meet by an appendicitis attack, set a new national record last season. Now favored are Lash's teammates, Jimmy Smith and Tommy Deckard, and Eino Pentti of the Milwaukee Athletic Club, New York.

The 10,000 meters was the only senior event scheduled today. Trials in junior events, open to all contestants who never have won a national senior title, will be held today and the finals tonight. The 22 other senior events will be held tomorrow.

scattering seven hits and allowing only one earned marker.

Macon walked three and fanned three, while his opponent walked two and fanned two.

Johnny Rizzo was struck in the back by a pitched ball and was forced to leave the game, but he will be ready for action by Saturday.

The Birds are now three games back of the first place Minneapolis Millers and two back of second place where Toledo's Mudhens reside. The Red Birds and Mudhens play a series this week-end that may give the Columbus crew a chance to climb higher.

Boston Bees Set Mark With 36 Blank Frames

NEW YORK, July 2.—(UP)—Although the Chicago Cubs slammed down the St. Louis Gashouse gang three times hand-running and the New York Yankees blasted out their 12th triumph in their last 15 games, the headline news today in baseball is that the Boston Bees are careening along at the most amazing clip in years.

The Bees have clicked off six straight and climbed to within one game of fifth place. Only last Monday the Bees were in the cellar.

No one dreamed they would get out of last place, but a pitching miracle happened to Boston.

Six Boston pitchers went to the well and every one brought back a full bucket of water. Danny MacFayden beat the Reds 8-2. Jim Turner did it, 10-5. Lou Fette stopped the Dodgers, 1-0. Frank Gabler did it by the same score. Guy Bush beat Brooklyn, 7-0. Then John Lanning turned the trick yesterday, 4-1.

In snuffing out the Dodgers four straight the Bees pitchers blanked the Dodgers for 36 consecutive innings. The record is 56 made by Pittsburgh in 1903. The next longest string is 41 by Cleveland in 1903. But both were before the lively ball era.

In the Brooklyn series the Boston pitchers allowed a total of 19 hits in 39 innings (the first game went 12 frames, or less than one hit every two innings).

Pitching for the Bees is no easy trick. The Bees' club batting average is .246, lowest in either major league. The only 300 hitter on the club is Gilbert English.

Imagine pitching for a club that has an outfield batting considerably less than .270—Garms .270, More .261, Johnson .245 and DiMaggio .237.

One of the main factors in the Bees' great record against Brooklyn was Al Lopez, who formerly caught for the Dodgers and knows every hitter's weakness. The fiery little Spaniard from Tampa gets considerable personal satisfaction every time the Bees lick the Dodgers and they've done it eight out of nine times this season.

In their first 61 games this year the Giants drew 831,249 paid admissions, averaging 13,627 per game, which promises a new record. In their first 30 home games, the Yankees won all but six. Have you noticed how creaky old Heinie Manush is mistreating that mango for dear old Brooklyn? . . . Minneapolis hotels are refusing reservations for the week-end of the Minnesota-Notre Dame game. . . . Your old friend Rabbit Maranville is making those Montreal Royals hustle. . . . none of the athletes stands around whittling while Rabbit is running the team.

Maybe Dizzy Dean has buttoned up his vocal department for a while. . . . he refused an invitation to address a fans' meeting at Alton, Ill., the other day. . . . Newsom and Chapman have helped the Boston Red Sox tremendously. . . . especially Chapman who has been playing like Ty Cobb since getting away from the Senators. . . . the Bostonese have taken on new spirit and fire, with the Alabama speedway blazing the way.

Clark Griffith has put the finger on Oral Hildebrand of the Browns, advising Prexy Will Harridge that the St. Louis pitcher should be placed under surveillance or something. . . . One of Hildy's shoots broke Al Simmons' little finger and knocked a knuckle loose. . . . Griff charges that Hildy is a confirmed duster. . . . and Simmons adds that the Brownie hurler has been throwing at him ever since he came up to the majors. . . .

Lou Chiozza, who is doing a nice job at third for the Giants pronounces his name Keyotza. . . . Lou's family runs a restaurant in Memphis, and they say that Luigi is a pretty good cook.

LOUIS TO FIGHT BRITISH TITLIST IN EARLY FALL

Arrangements Are Completed, Says Mike Jacobs After Talk With Farr's Handler

OTHER BOUTS SCHEDULED

Several Titles May Change Hands During Evening

NEW YORK, July 2.—(UP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis will defend his title against Tommy Farr, wearer of the British and Empire crown, "somewhere in the United States in August or September," according to Promoter Mike Jacobs.

"Uncle" Mike came to an agreement with Farr's manager, Ted Broadbitt, yesterday via Transatlantic telephone then sent the following cable:

"Your proposition for championship fight with Louis accepted on basis of 20 percent option and guarantee I offered. Strickland okay on card. Fight in September. Get ready come over in two weeks. Our Straus will see you and complete arrangements. Regard our agreement closed."

"Strickland" referred to the New Zealand heavy weight and "Strauss" meant Sol Strauss, attorney for Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting Club, visiting in Europe.

This agreement apparently killed England's last hopes of a summer title fight between Farr and Max Schmeling.

The promoter also announced a plan to stage four title bouts on the same card in Yankee stadium, Aug. 25 or 26.

He said Marcel Thil of France, recognized in Europe as world middleweight champion, had agreed to defend his crown against Fred Apostoli of San Francisco. The other bouts would bring together Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers vs. Pedro Montanez of Puerto Rico; Welterweight Champion Barney Ross vs. Ceferino Garcia of San Francisco; and Bantam titleholder Sixto Escobar vs. Harry Jeffra of Baltimore or K. O. Morgan of Detroit.

SOPWITH CHOOSES RACER IN AMERICA'S CUP MEET

NEWPORT, R. I., July 2.—(UP)—England's hope of wresting the America's cup—symbol of international yachting supremacy—rested today with Endeavor II.

The new blue-hulled British sloop was selected by T. O. M. Sopwith as challenger for the battered, bottomless mug after a series of informal tests with her sister ship, Endeavor I, unsuccessful challenger in the 1934 races against Rainbow, then sailed by Harold S. (Mike) Vanderbilt.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

AN UNSOUND PROCEDURE
RAISING YOUR partner's suit with only three cards of it is an unsound procedure still utilized by some otherwise fair players. They consider that, if one of the three cards is a high honor, that makes the move safer. They do not seem to realize that this has no effect in cutting down the dangerous number of trumps held by the opponents.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)
In a recent duplicate where this deal was played, the final contract was 4-Hearts at some tables and 4-Spades at others, depending upon the types of bidders in the South position.

Where 4-Hearts was the final contract it was set one trick, because three tricks had to be given up in the trump suit and the opening lead of a club was won with the Ace.

At the table where the incorrect bidding occurred, South began with 1-Heart, North bid 1-Spade and South, with only three of his partner's trumps, raised that suit instead of rebidding the five-card heart suit. Against those players the club K was led and followed by the club Ace, which North ruffed with his spade 6. The two high diamonds were then cashed and a spade led to the K. A diamond was now ruffed in dummy with the spade A and a spade led, with the hope that the suit would break. When North cashed his last spade, West still held the outstanding trump, so that the remainder of the tricks were taken by the opponents.

his front porch. There the non-striker, Julie Julian, was handed a gun by his son. He wheeled and shot into the strikers' car. None was injured, but guardsmen later surrounded Julian's house to hold back booting strikers.

Later a blast of dynamite tore the back porch from the home of Matt Perick, a foreman at the Republic plants who had remained at work throughout the strike. Mrs. Perick narrowly escaped death. Three neighboring houses were damaged.

OCEAN SERVICE BEGINS

along the two-mile surface of coral rock, will burn flares at night and smudge signals by day to guide the flier to land. The Itasca will keep a powerful arc light circling the heavens at night.

Navigator Noonan's task was most difficult. So tiny is Howland island and its nearest neighbor, Baker island, 33 nautical miles southeast of here, that a miss by not more than 25 miles might send the plane roaring by without sight of their surf-rimmed surfaces.

Richard Black of the department of interior, in charge of advance preparations, reported the island's three runways in excellent condition. The main north-south one is 4,500 feet long, but a strong east wind may force Miss Earhart to use the 3,000-foot east-west, or the 3,800-foot northeast-southwest runways.

Elaborate preparation were made at Itasca town, name of the Howland colony, to receive the fliers. A private shower and bunk room was ready for Miss Earhart. The shower is a special luxury, because there is no fresh water supply.

Gasoline and oil supplies for her next hop—1,800 miles to Honolulu—also were ready.

Miss Earhart has proceeded this far in her equatorial flight by easy stages, taking exactly a month to fly from Miami, Fla., to Lae. It was her second attempt. The first flight ended in a crash at Hawaii on March 20 as she took off for Howland island on a west-east attempt.

She hoped to cover the last 7,000-mile expanse of the Pacific to the United States by Sunday.

They were awarded to the mothers in eight cases. Seven cases were continued from the previous year. Forty-eight cases were decided the previous year.

Six criminal cases were carried over from the previous year and 78 were added to the docket. Four were dismissed, three disposed of in other ways, 41 guilty pleas were entered, four juries were waived by prisoners, eight verdicts of guilty were returned, three pleaded guilty to lesser crimes than charged and 21 are pending in the court. Last year there were 56 criminal cases filed.
